1. WAC 463-42-075 General Assurances

The application shall set forth insurance, bonding or other arrangements proposed in order to mitigate for damage or loss to the physical or human environment caused by project construction, operation, abandonment, termination, or when operations cease at the completion of the project's life.

BP shall maintain or cause to be maintained on its behalf in effect at all times, the types of insurance required by federal, state, and local ordinance or law, and by lenders with insurance companies rated "A-" or better, with a minimum size rating of "VII", by Best's Insurance Guide. BP self-insures for property damage, environmental liability, and personal injury. BP may also self-insure for any of the following coverages to the extent allowable by law.

1.1 Commercial General Liability Insurance

Commercial General Liability Insurance will be on an "occurrence" policy form, including coverage for premises operations, explosion, collapse and underground hazards, broad form property damage, blanket contractual liability, independent contractors and personal injury or death to one or more persons or damage to property resulting from any one occurrence.

1.2 Automobile Insurance

Automobile liability insurance, to the extent the exposure exists, will include coverage for owned, non-owned and hired automobiles for both bodily injury and property damage and will contain appropriate no-fault insurance provisions or other endorsements in accordance with state legal requirements with respect to bodily injury, property damage or death.

1.3 Worker's Compensation and Unemployment

Worker's compensation insurance, to the extent the exposure exists, will provide statutory benefits and employer's liability insurance for each employee covering loss resulting from injury, sickness, disability or death. The applicant will require the construction contractors and subcontractors working on the site to similarly comply with Washington State worker's compensation and unemployment laws with respect to their employees performing work on the site.
